We find the following notice in the Geneva Times, which is by no means a bad record for the Dr. to bring with him.

Dr. H. H. BARTLETT, for several years past a resident physician of Geneva, has removed to Ashtabula for a permanent location. His career in this place as a physician has been highly successful and satisfactory, so much so, in fact, that there is a very general regret among his patrons at his removal. As a citizen he abored to advance the cause of temperance and good morals, and has exhibit a spirit of liberality in all his relations to society. The Doctor has filled a large place in our community, and has filled it well. We commend him to the people of Ashtabula as a gentleman of skill and devotion in his second devotion in his profession and as a valu-able accession to their somety.

GRAYE CROYERS,—A new feature has recently been added to this furniture establisement—or rather to the Undertaker's department of it—one that cannot full to commend inely to the community, and will show the disposition of the proprietor to make his establishment as perfect as may be. It will go far to relieve the work and busile, incidental to, and so repugnant in seasons of he reavement, of preparing the remains of the departed for burial. This consists in keeping on hand and ready for immediate use, a stock of grave elethes.
